TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.

Stocks were a little better yesterday. Andy Russell is up from Wadsworth. Hon. W. E. F. Deal was in town yesterday.

Chase & Thyes have everything good in their line.

Brookins has a fine lot of fancy and comic valentines.

Freddie Hagerman is very sick with typhoid pneumonia.

John Denning returned from the Bay yesterday morning.

Tom Hymers made his regular visit to Steamboat yesterday.

A. H. Manning returned from San Francisco yesterday morning.

Verdi and Wadsworth promise to be lively places this Spring and Summer.

The Carson Index wishes B. F. Leete was a member of the Legislature from Washoe.

There is a possibility of the Auburn mill being started up on ore from Peavine district.

Loss of hair and grayness, which often mar the prettiest face, are prevented by Parker's Hair Balsam.

P. N. Marker and Geo. Alt have attached the personal property of the J. & K. M. Co., at Pyramid, on a claim of $690.

Laycock has just finished painting a nice sign on the Wine House show window, and some splendid lettering on Jake Becker's doors.

E. Meyer is constantly receiving new goods in his line. If you want anything in the way of cigars and tobacco his is the place to go.

The performance of Leavitt's Specialty Company gave unbounded satisfaction last night. The St. Felix Sisters are a whole show in themselves.

Old mother Bowers, the Washoe seerss, is doing a rattling business in fortune-telling, at No. 511 Stockton street, San Francisco. The papers say that to obtain an interview with the old lady three days' notice has to be given.

A beautiful shell-cased Riverside chronometer watch, an adjusted movement, warranted for 15 years, the finest adies' watch made, cost at the jeweler's $150, will be sold for $84 at Uncle Harris', 221 Kearny street, between Bush and Sutter.

Fine Copper Specimens.

The Enterprise has been shown some fine specimens of native copper, which were brought from Pyramid lake by Carl Peterson. Mr. Peterson says he obtained the specimens from fishermen at the lake, who told him that they got them from surface rock in a ravine near the north shore, near a place where they often camp when the wind blows heavily from the west or south. The specimens are in the shape of oak leaves, and so thin as to be easily bent. One specimen is in the shape of a butterfly. The copper, though apparently quite pure, is unusually red in color. The men who found the specimens told Mr. Peterson that there appeared to be no vein. They found the copper "almost anywhere," as they said, in the seams and often places in a greenish-looking rock. At the time of the Indian war, in the Spring of 1860, the soldiers brought back many handsome specimens of native copper, which they said they found near Pyramid Lake. They probably procured them from the same place whence came those given to Mr. Peterson by the fishermen.

The State Sued.

The Carson Tribune says the great money lender, Livingston, who advanced money for the purchase of the State Bonds and their withdrawal, imagines he has not received money enough for the goods, and now sues the State for what he claims to be the balance due, $16,000, and interest, which will figure up at least $22,000. The complaint was filed on the 26th instant.

Our Truckee Water Power.

The Gazette says: The great water power of this section ought to be utilized and made the scene of busy progressiveness. Nothing like manufacturing industries will build up a town and section, and capital ought to be invited here and shown the great natural resources at our command.

Has not capital been invited, and doesn't it refuse to come?

Justice Court.

Thos. Ackley, the fraudulent priest, was released on his own recognizance yesterday, and at last accounts had entered upon a grand walking match to Verdi. "Sacramento Bill," was also up before Justice Young, and given until Saturday to appear. He will probably depart in peace.

THE CHINESE LAW.

The Way Opened Wide for Evasions of the Mongolian Restriction Bill.

One of the issues that have been raised since the passage of the Chinese Restriction bill is as to the application of its provisions to the transit of Chinese laborers across the continent in the course of their journey from one country to another. The statute would to ordinary minds seem clear enough on this point, but it has been thought best in Washington to seek the opinion of Attorney-General Brewster on the matter. That opinion was rendered on December 26, 1882, but has only just been made public in the form of a circular prepared by the Treasury Department and addressed to Collectors of Customs "and others." For the purpose of enforcing these regulations a Special Agent of the Government has been dispatched to the coast, in the person of Major W. H. Wasson, formerly in charge of Indian affairs in Nevada, but now a special agent of the Treasury Department. While in San Francisco last week a reporter of the Chronicle interviewed the Major, the result being the following conversation:

DUTIES OF THE AGENT.

"Yours, I believe," commenced the reporter, "is a new office, is it not?" "Yes," replied Colonel Wasson, "and it is so new that I cannot be said to have actually entered upon my duties as yet. I shall stop in San Francisco until the 1st of the month to get conversant with the situation, and then move to Portland, Oregon, so as to be better control the northern avenues through which Chinese may come into this country."

"And your duties are—," prompted the reporter.

"My duties are," said the Special Agent, taking the cue, "to see that the provisions of the Act are enforced, and especially to see that the regulations for the transit of Chinese across the United States are understood and put into practice."

"Do you not apprehend that your position will be a difficult one?"

"Well," answered Colonel Wasson, "it will be one in which I shall have to depend largely upon the co-operation of the people of this coast and that of the Custom-house officials. It will be one which will require constant attention and vigilance, but I cannot see that it will be a difficult one—if you mean difficult in the light of keeping the Chinese out of the country."

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR ABUSE.

"That, however," said the reporter, "is just exactly what I do mean. May I ask if you have read the last circular from the Treasury Department containing Attorney-General Brewster's opinion?"

"I have not received the circular yet," replied the Colonel, "but I have read the telegraphic transcript published in the papers of the 23d, although I cannot say I have carefully studied the document."

"Allow me then," said the reporter, "to descend from the general to the particular. The first regulation provides that when a Chinese laborer presents himself to the Chinese Consul at the port of landing, the Consul shall furnish him with a descriptive certificate, containing also the place at which he is to leave the United States, and that this shall be considered as prima facie evidence that such Chinaman intends strictly to pass through and not remain in the country. Would you call that a loose or a stringent provision?"

"Well," replied the Special Agent, after some little reflection, "I certainly consider that the consular certificate might be abused; and, perhaps, did I not hold the position I do, I might speak a little more plainly on the subject. But pass on to the second regulation."

POINTS WELL TAKEN.

"That," said the reporter, "is simply that a through ticket, exhibited to and verified by the Collector, shall be considered competent proof that the holder intends only to pass through the country. Suppose for argument's sake, that Hop We has a large business in Nevada; that he returns to China, and, being unable to revisit America, sends his brother to take charge of his business. The brother buys a through ticket and gets off at Reno. He loses the amount of the ticket from Reno eastward, but he is safely in the country."

"Dear, dear," exclaimed Colonel Wasson, "that is a point well taken, and I certainly shall make a minute of it as an illustrative case and forward it to the department. Let us take up the third regulation."

"By it bodies of laborers passing through the country in charge of an agent must be sworn to as transients by such agent, and these affidavits will be received by the Collector as proof of transiency in lieu of a consular certificate or through ticket. Would you imagine, Colonel Wasson, that this would prevent an agent who wanted laborers swearing that the gang under his charge were transients, and then dropping them at whatever points along the line he chose?"

"No," said that gentleman, "I cannot see that it would; although, of course, it must be remembered that the punishment for breaking the law is severe, and that every one will have an interest in seeing that no one breaks it with impunity. As I said before, the co-operation of the people of this coast is something that I shall have to rely upon."

THE RAILROADS SURE OF CHINESE.

"Do you think, sir, that the railroad company will co-operate with you, or that if they want laborers they will not import them by the wholesale, furnish them with through tickets, and then quietly debark them at a score of different points?"

To this query the special agent was silent, contenting himself with a dubious shake of the head. "I begin," he said at length, "to see that my position may be a difficult one, but if my labors here only serve to show that the Attorney-General's interpretation of the Act means its nullification, my appointment will not have been in vain. On this the people of the coast may rely; also, that I shall do my utmost to further their interests; that I shall use all the means at my command to enforce the Restriction Act; that, personally, I shall practice vigilance and watchfulness, and that if I find the recent regulations have opened a loophole through which the Chinese may crawl I shall report the matter in the plainest manner to the department, and recommend its being speedily and securely closed up."

New Patents.

Dewey & Co.'s Scientific Press Patent Agency has official reports of the following U. S. patents issued Jan. 16, 1883: L. D. Craig, S. F., sewer or stench trap; Chas. H. Danton, S. F., cooking stove; W. D. Farren, Boise City, I. T., telegraph key; W. A. Fruhling, Jr., San Jose, Cal., nasal respirator; J. H. Huffer, Jacksonville, Or., operating pumps in deep wells and mines; Ed. Tage, $1,444; Luning to Downieville, to E. J. Travis, of Salt Lake, $1,509.
